When Mr. Arnold Daly promised on Sunday he would leave the fate of "Mrs. Warren's Profession" to the dramatic critics of New York he put his case before a hard jury. Without exception, the critics of the leading morning newspapers denounced the play. Some of them admitted it was clever; all agreed it was vulgar and not only sught a sport distance further on Mo-onald's horse was cut in several aces but not permanenti dyisabled.

CITY HALL, RESENT INSULT TO FLAG

Attempts to Haul Down the Red Banner of Anarchy Displayed on Political Device Beside "Old Glory" on Park Row.

Anarchy's flag is floating alongside Old Glory from two lofty masts in Park row this afternoon, with a small regiment of policemen guarding the red banner from destruction at the hands of a big, angry crowd. One man who had the daring to try to shin up a pole and tear down the net upon which the two flags are fastened was dragged back to earth and hustled to the City Hall station, with hundreds of citizens following behind, cheering the prisoner and hissing his captors. Then the crowd went back under the shadow of the bunting to hear one volunteer after another denounce the indignity offered to their country's emblem.
